

Concern resolutions are to start at the base level of where the issue exists and then proceed upward pending satisfaction with the resolution.

When a concern is received at a level above where the issue occurs the upper level will direct that person to the base level of where the issue exists. Nothing prevents an administrator however from being part of the resolution process at his or her discretion.

Board of Education members may receive a communication or concern but will direct a person to the Superintendent/Principal who will then best determine the base level to start the resolution process.

Board members do not reach out to individuals directly regarding school items.
